

Presented by

in collaboration with

Baseball film series

Free admission

Richcraft Hall, Carleton University (1125 Colonel By Drive)

The Vancouver Asahi* (Japan, 2014)

Friday, July 26, 6:30 PM

In the early 1900s, Japanese who immigrated to Canada were greeted by the harsh reality of grueling labour, discrimination, and poverty. However, the fighting spirit demonstrated by the Japanese-Canadian baseball team brought a ray of hope to people's lives. (132 min., in Japanese and English with English subtitles)

The Outlaw League* (Canada, 2014)

Saturday, July 27, 3 PM

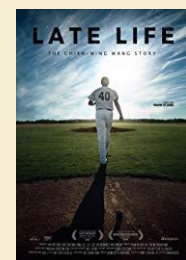

Nicolas wants to stop the mayor of his town from transforming a disused municipal baseball field into a garbage dump. With other kids in town, he becomes the leader of "la gang des hors-la-loi" to save the baseball field. (86 min., in French)

Late Life: The Chen-Min Wang Story* (Taiwan, 2018)

Saturday, July 27, 5 PM

This film follows the story of the first Taiwanese player for the New York Yankees, Chien-Ming Wang. It explores the struggles and the extraordinary journey of a man who is determined to fight his way back to the Major Leagues. (99 min., in Mandarin and English with English subtitles)

Cooperation: Canadian Film Institute, Embassy of Japan, Japan Foundation, Ottawa Japanese Community Association, Embassy of France, Connections Productions, Taipei Economic and Cultural Office in Canada